

ST JOHN'S GATE

This is the English headquarters of the Knights of St John. They first came here nearly 900 years ago in 1140. St John's Gate was built as a new entrance to the Knights' headquarters in 1504 when Henry VII, the first Tudor king was on the throne.

